EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Bangkok: The World's New Sourcing Hub for Textiles & Apparel in the Heart of Asia

Uniting Asia's Textile & Apparel Manufacturers at 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 (Textiles & Apparel): A Strategic Sourcing Exhibition for the next Supply-chain era

The global textile and apparel industry stands at a defining inflection point. Supply chains are being re-engineered as brands and buyers respond to rising tariffs, shifting trade alliances, geopolitical recalibrations, cost pressures, and the rapid emergence of regional trade blocs. In this new reality, Asia has unequivocally consolidated its position as the epicenter of global textile and apparel manufacturing and sourcing.

The 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 (Textiles & Apparel) is conceived as a strategic response to this transformation. It is not merely an exhibition - it is a sourcing marketplace designed for a world where speed, diversification, resilience, and multi-country sourcing are essential to competitiveness and long-term survival.

As global sourcing offices and international brands rethink their dependencies, the demand is clear: direct, efficient access to leading Asian manufacturers across multiple countries under one roof. Asia Sourcing 2026 delivers precisely this - bringing together manufacturers from South Asia, Southeast Asia, East Asia, and beyond with regional and global buyers, retailers, brands, and sourcing professionals seeking reliable, scalable, and future-ready supply chains.

This is the platform where Asia's redrawn supply chains take shape - where conversations evolve into contracts, partnerships are forged across borders, and new trade corridors are activated. Positioned at the heart of Asia, the show serves as a neutral, accessible, and strategically powerful meeting point for regional and global sourcing decision-makers.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Against this powerful backdrop, CEMS-Global USA is proud to present two strategically integrated platforms designed to shape the future of sourcing and industry collaboration:

CEMS-Global's 2nd edition of Asia Sourcing 2026 in Bangkok – Thailand stands as a premier comprehensive Global Sourcing Show comprising the 2nd Asian International Apparel Sourcing Show 2026 and the 2nd Asian International Yarn and Fabric Sourcing Show 2026. Whether seeking high-quality fabrics, trendy apparel collections, nearshoring, or sustainable solutions, attendees will find a diverse range of offerings tailored to their sourcing needs, under one roof, in the heart of Asia.

The platform is designed to establish Thailand as a preferred global hub for textile and apparel sourcing.

In an era where sourcing agility defines success, 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 stands as the region's most relevant gateway - connecting Asia's manufacturing strength with the world's sourcing ambitions, and shaping the next chapter of global textile and apparel trade.

Why this Exhibition Matters Now

The textile and apparel value chain is rapidly reorganizing across South and Southeast Asia - regions that collectively power the majority of the world's apparel production. Positioned at the geographic and commercial crossroads of Asia, Bangkok offers unmatched accessibility, neutrality, and connectivity - making it an ideal convening point for industry leaders seeking both regional depth and global reach.

A Strategic Marketplace - Not Just Another Sourcing Exhibition

The 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 is being curated as a high-impact, pan-Asian business platform that moves beyond the traditional trade fair model. It is designed to facilitate meaningful commercial outcomes through:

- Structured B2B matchmaking to accelerate partnership development
- Enhanced brand positioning within a globally marketed sourcing destination

- A neutral platform encouraging regional collaboration rather than competition

Not just Another Sourcing Exhibition

For manufacturers, participation is a strategic step toward securing long-term export growth and reducing dependence on single-market exposure.

For associations, the platform serves as a powerful channel to elevate national industry visibility, support member expansion into new markets, and reinforce institutional relevance within the global sourcing dialogue.

The Knowledge Advantage: The Global Sourcing Summit 2026

Held in parallel, this will be a high-level leadership summit convening policymakers, industry federations and associations, global brands, manufacturers, investors, and supply-chain strategists.

The Summit will bring together thought leaders to address the forces redefining the sector, including:

- The future architecture of global sourcing
- Supply-chain diversification and resilience
- Market access strategies for emerging and re-emerging sourcing destinations
- Regional trade frameworks such as RCEP and Indo-Pacific corridors
- Sustainability, compliance, and responsible manufacturing
- Digital transformation and supply-chain transparency
- Value addition, productivity enhancement, and upgrading manufacturing capabilities
- Investment flows and emerging production hubs

This convergence of commerce and intellect ensures that participants are not only conducting business - but also shaping the conversations that will define the industry's next decade.

The Role of China and RCEP in the 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 (Textiles & Apparel)

China, as the world's largest textile and apparel manufacturing and export powerhouse, plays a pivotal role in shaping global sourcing dynamics. Its vertically integrated supply chain - spanning fibers, yarns, fabrics, accessories, machinery, and finished apparel, positions Chinese manufacturers as strategic partners for regional and global buyers seeking scale, reliability, innovation, and competitive pricing. At the 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026, China's participation will significantly strengthen the exhibition's value proposition by anchoring the Asian sourcing ecosystem and facilitating deeper engagement between manufacturers, brands, and sourcing offices.

The Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) further amplifies this role by creating the world's largest free trade bloc, integrating key textile and apparel manufacturing nations across East Asia, Southeast Asia, and the Asia-Pacific. RCEP enhances supply-chain connectivity through preferential tariffs, harmonized rules of origin, and improved trade facilitation, making intra-Asian sourcing more efficient, cost-effective, and resilient.

The 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026, hosted in Bangkok at the heart of the RCEP region, serves as a natural physical platform where RCEP-driven supply-chain realignment, near-regional sourcing strategies, and cross-border collaboration can be translated into concrete business outcomes.

The Global Sourcing Summit 2026

Redefining Textile & Apparel Sourcing in a New Global Supply-Chain Era

Held concurrently with the 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 (Textiles & Apparel)

Summit Introduction

The global textile and apparel industry is at a historic inflection point. Over the past few years, sourcing strategies that once relied on cost efficiency and scale alone have been fundamentally reshaped by geopolitical uncertainty, trade disruptions, nearshoring trends, supply-chain shocks, sustainability mandates, inflationary pressures, and evolving buyer expectations. What has emerged is a new reality, one that demands resilience, transparency, diversification, innovation, and long-term partnership.

In this rapidly evolving environment, Asia remains the backbone of global textile and apparel manufacturing. Yet, the future of sourcing will not be defined by individual countries competing in isolation, but by regional collaboration, strategic hubs, and trusted ecosystems that can offer global buyers reliability, compliance, speed, and value.

As European and global buyers increasingly explore nearshoring and regional sourcing, Asia is being challenged to reposition, not retreat. The future of global sourcing will not be shaped by isolated markets, but by strategic hubs, regional collaboration, and hybrid sourcing models that combine speed, resilience, sustainability, and scale.

The Global Sourcing Summit 2026, held alongside the 2nd Asia Sourcing 2026 (Textiles & Apparel) in Bangkok, is designed as a high-level strategic thought-leadership forum - a platform where industry leaders, manufacturers, buyers, brands, associations, and policymakers come together to redefine how global sourcing will function in the decade ahead.
