EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Bangkok: The World's New Sourcing Hub for Textiles & Apparel in the Heart of Asia

Uniting Asia's Textile & Apparel Manufacturers at 3rd Asia Sourcing 2027 (Textiles & Apparel): A Strategic Sourcing Exhibition for the next Supply-chain era

The World is re-drawing its supply chains.

Asia is writing the next chapter.

Asian manufacturers. Global buyers. One strategic platform.

After an exceptional and highly successful 2nd edition in the Heart of Asia - Bangkok, Thailand - the Asia Sourcing Show enters a defining new phase.

The global textile and apparel industry stands at a defining point in its evolution. Across markets and regions, long-established sourcing patterns are being reconsidered as businesses respond to a rapidly changing operating environment shaped by shifting trade dynamics, supply chain diversification, technological advancement, sustainability expectations and growing demand for speed, resilience and flexibility.

What was once a largely cost-driven sourcing model has evolved into a more strategic and complex decision-making process. Buyers and brands today are no longer seeking manufacturing capacity alone - they are looking for dependable partners, integrated supply ecosystems, faster turnaround, innovation capabilities and sourcing destinations that can support long-term growth in an increasingly unpredictable world.

Against this backdrop, Asia has emerged not simply as the world's largest manufacturing region, but as its most dynamic sourcing ecosystem.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Against this powerful backdrop, CEMS-Global USA and AFTEX are proud to present two strategically integrated platforms designed to shape the future of sourcing and industry collaboration:

The 3rd Asia Sourcing 2027 (Textiles & Apparel)

17 – 19 June 2027 | IMPACT Exhibition & Convention Center | Bangkok, Thailand

From the scale and vertical integration of South Asia, to the industrial agility and market connectivity of ASEAN, and the technological advancement and innovation leadership of East Asia, the region today offers an unmatched combination of manufacturing capability, product diversity, supply chain depth and entrepreneurial energy. Asia is no longer merely responding to global sourcing trends - it is increasingly shaping them.

It is within this context that the 3rd Asia Sourcing Show 2027 (Textiles & Apparel) returns following the remarkable success of the 2nd edition held in Bangkok, Thailand.

The exhibition reflects a new reality:

- The future of sourcing will not be built around a single market.
- It will be built through connected ecosystems.
- And Asia is at the center of that evolution.

The momentum created in Bangkok demonstrated that the industry is ready for a stronger and more connected sourcing platform - one that goes beyond traditional exhibition formats and creates meaningful opportunities for engagement, collaboration and business growth across borders. It reinforced a growing understanding that the future of sourcing will not be defined by individual markets competing in isolation, but by ecosystems working together to create stronger, smarter and more resilient supply chains.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The 3rd Asia Sourcing Show 2027 is being developed with precisely this ambition.

Conceived as a strategic international sourcing platform in Asia for the textile and apparel industry, the exhibition will bring together manufacturers from Asian nations, regional & global buyers, brands, sourcing offices, technology providers, industry associations, investors and policymakers to explore opportunities across the entire value chain and collectively shape the next chapter of sourcing.

More than an exhibition of products and services, the 3rd Asia Sourcing Show 2027 (Textiles and Apparel) aims to create an environment where business relationships are initiated, ideas are exchanged and long-term partnerships are built.

The exhibition will showcase the complete sourcing ecosystem - from apparel manufacturing and OEM capabilities to yarns, fabrics, trims, accessories, machinery, textile technologies, dyes and chemicals, sustainability solutions and next-generation supply chain innovations. Participants will gain direct access to manufacturing strengths from across Asia while engaging with international markets seeking diversified and future-ready sourcing strategies.

At the same time, the event experience will extend well beyond the exhibition floor.

Dedicated buyer engagement initiatives, structured business matchmaking, curated networking programs and executive-level interactions will be designed to facilitate meaningful commercial outcomes and create opportunities for exhibitors and visitors to translate conversations into tangible business results. The objective is not simply to create visibility, but to create measurable value.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Complementing the exhibition, the 2nd Global Sourcing Summit 2027 will once again serve as the industry's leadership and knowledge platform, bringing together influential voices from across manufacturing, sourcing, retail, policy and innovation to discuss the forces reshaping global trade and supply chains. Through strategic dialogue and the exchange of perspectives, the Summit will continue to strengthen the role of Asia as a region capable of driving solutions rather than reacting to change.

As the textile and apparel industry enters a new era defined by collaboration, technology and adaptability, opportunities will increasingly belong to businesses and markets that are prepared to think beyond traditional boundaries and build stronger regional and international partnerships.

The 3rd Asia Sourcing Show 2027 reflects that future.

It is a platform created not only to showcase capability, but to connect ambition with opportunity, manufacturing with markets and innovation with growth.

The conversations that began in Bangkok in 2026 now move into their next chapter.

And as the industry looks ahead, Asia stands ready - not simply to participate in the future of sourcing, but to help define it.

The 3rd Asia Sourcing Show 2027 is not simply the next edition. It is the platform where Asia and the world co-create the next generation of textile and apparel sourcing.

Join the movement. Source smarter. Build resilient partnerships. Shape the future - together.

The next chapter of Global sourcing begins in Asia
Asia is not following the future of sourcing - Asia is defining it.

How can the Asian Textile and Apparel Industry stakeholders gather in Bangkok to redefine the future of the global textile and apparel industry, without involving the future generation of the Industry?

This was not a Roundtable; this was a statement
New partnerships have begun.
New ideas are already in motion.

The NexGen CEOs Roundtable is a Joint Initiative of the International Apparel Federation (IAF) and CEMS-Global USA. The Bangkok edition was supported by the National Federation of Thai Textile Industries (NFTTI), the Thai Garment Manufacturers Association (TGMA), headed by the Bangkok edition Roundtable Chairperson, Mr. Chalumporn Lotharukpong, Chairman of TGMA.

The discussions may have ended, but the movement has just started.

The Role of China and RCEP in the 3rd Asia Sourcing 2027 (Textiles & Apparel)

China, as the world's largest textile and apparel manufacturing and export powerhouse, plays a pivotal role in shaping global sourcing dynamics. Its vertically integrated supply chain - spanning fibers, yarns, fabrics, accessories, machinery, and finished apparel, positions Chinese manufacturers as strategic partners for regional and global buyers seeking scale, reliability, innovation, and competitive pricing. At the 3rd Asia Sourcing 2027, China's participation will significantly strengthen the exhibition's value proposition by anchoring the Asian sourcing ecosystem and facilitating deeper engagement between manufacturers, brands, and sourcing offices.

The Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) further amplifies this role by creating the world's largest free trade bloc, integrating key textile and apparel manufacturing nations across East Asia, Southeast Asia, and the Asia-Pacific. RCEP enhances supply-chain connectivity through preferential tariffs, harmonized rules of origin, and improved trade facilitation, making intra-Asian sourcing more efficient, cost-effective, and resilient.

The 3rd Asia Sourcing 2027, hosted in Bangkok at the heart of the RCEP region, serves as a natural physical platform where RCEP-driven supply-chain realignment, near-regional sourcing strategies, and cross-border collaboration can be translated into concrete business outcomes.

A Collective Opportunity

The 3rd Asia Sourcing Show 2027 (Textiles & Apparel) and the 2nd Global Sourcing Summit 2027 are not merely events; they represent a coordinated industry movement toward deeper collaboration, smarter sourcing, and resilient growth.

Organizations that engage early will help shape the platform - and stand to benefit most from the partnerships, visibility, and market intelligence it generates.

We cordially invite your esteemed Association / Organization to join this important initiative - whether by leading a national pavilion, encouraging member participation, nominating speakers, or supporting the platform as an institutional partner.

Together, let us create a sourcing ecosystem that reflects the strength, diversity, and future potential of Asian manufacturing.

For partnership and participation opportunities, please contact us at contact@cems-global.com or visit www.asia-sourcing.com

We look forward to welcoming you to Bangkok for what promises to be one of the region's most influential textile and apparel sourcing show.
