7 Reasons to Participate in the 31st Build Bangladesh Int'l Expo

2026

1. Booming Building and Construction Industry

According to the Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS), GDP from construction was BDT 4.72 trillion in 2024, up from 3.19 trillion in 2023. The sector contributes around 8% to GDP, with consistent growth over the years. This growth necessitates a steady supply of advanced construction equipment, machinery, and materials.

2. Infrastructure Development Priorities

Bangladesh's building and construction sector is poised for rapid transformation, driven by a combination of government initiatives, private sector involvement, and international collaboration. The country's focus on infrastructure development, sustainable practices, and technological innovation positions it as a rising hub for investment in construction.

3. Rapid Urbanization and Population Growth

With a population exceeding 170 million and a high urbanization rate, the demand for housing and urban infrastructure is rising sharply. The government is pushing for modern urban planning, creating opportunities for advanced construction technologies and materials.

7 Reasons to Participate in the 31st Build Bangladesh Int'l Expo 2026

4. Strategic Location and Regional Connectivity

Positioned at the crossroads of South and Southeast Asia, Bangladesh offers access to regional markets and benefits from initiatives like China's Belt and Road Initiative (BRI). By tapping into Bangladesh's growing construction market, international manufacturers can establish a strong foothold in one of the fastest-growing economies in South Asia.

5. High Infrastructure Development Demand

Bangladesh presents a compelling market for international manufacturers in the building and construction materials and equipment sectors due to its robust growth, strategic development initiatives, and emerging needs for residential, commercial, and industrial infrastructure.

6. Rising Demand for Quality and Sustainable Materials

With the Modernization of Housing and Infrastructure, there is a huge requirement for durable, high-quality materials to meet international standards. Advanced technologies in construction are also in demand to improve efficiency and reduce construction timelines.

7. Resilient Infrastructure Needs, Economic Zones, and Industrial Growth

Bangladesh is prone to floods and cyclones, necessitating disaster-resistant building materials and equipment so Durable construction solutions are in high demand for resilient housing and infrastructure. Also, the surge in the development of Special Economic Zones (SEZs) creates opportunities for constructing industrial facilities, warehouses, and support infrastructure.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- The countdown to one of the most anticipated events in Bangladesh has begun. Step into the legacy of innovation, excellence, and progress at the 31st Build Bangladesh 2026 International Expo - Bangladesh's oldest and largest exhibition dedicated to building and construction materials, equipment, and cutting-edge technology for the past 30 years.
- For three decades, this iconic event has been the ultimate platform for Global manufacturers & suppliers, industry leaders, professionals, and innovators to connect, collaborate, and shape the future of the construction industry in Bangladesh and beyond.
- The Build Bangladesh Int'l Expo, a cornerstone of the CEMS-Global USA's Build Series of Exhibitions, is a flagship event in the construction and building industry, celebrated as the largest and oldest exhibition of its kind in Bangladesh. Part of the prestigious Build Series of Exhibitions, the event provides an unparalleled platform for showcasing innovations in building, construction materials, technology, and equipment. Scheduled to take place in Dhaka, this expo attracts national and regional audience, making it a keystone for industry professionals and businesses.
- The Build Bangladesh Int'l Expo has established itself as a beacon of innovation and collaboration in the building, construction materials, technology, and equipment sectors. Over the years, it has become an essential platform for showcasing advancements, fostering partnerships, and driving the growth of Bangladesh's infrastructure industry. This annual expo is a convergence of ideas, expertise, and technology aimed at propelling the nation toward sustainable and inclusive development.

Why Bangladesh - Facts & Figures

A Growing Market with Limitless Potential Bangladesh has emerged as a rising star in South Asia, with consistent GDP growth exceeding 6% over the past decade. It boasts one of the fastest-growing economies globally, driven by robust industrialization, rapid urbanization, and a burgeoning middle class. The construction and infrastructure sector, in particular, has witnessed unprecedented growth, fuelled by ambitious government mega projects. This dynamic environment makes Bangladesh an ideal market for global manufacturers of building materials, construction equipment, machinery, and cutting-edge technology.

Bangladesh's building and construction sector is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8.2% through 2028. With over $30 billion allocated for infrastructure projects annually, the demand for high-quality materials and advanced technology is at an all-time high. The building and construction sector contributes around 8% to GDP, with consistent growth over the years. This growth necessitates a steady supply of advanced construction equipment, machinery, and materials.

With a population exceeding 170 million and a high urbanization rate, the demand for housing and urban infrastructure is rising sharply. The government is pushing for modern urban planning, creating opportunities for advanced construction technologies and materials.

Bangladesh presents a compelling market for international manufacturers in the building and construction materials and equipment sectors due to its robust growth, strategic development initiatives, and emerging needs for residential, commercial, and industrial infrastructure.

As a Gateway to South Asia, Bangladesh's strategic location offers unparalleled access to South Asia's 1.9 billion-strong population. It serves as a gateway for trade and investment in neighbouring countries, including India, Nepal, and Bhutan, creating additional opportunities for all stakeholders of the Building and Construction Industry.
