Facts & Figures

Dhaka and Chittagong are the two largest cities in Bangladesh, where the real estate business is booming. Dhaka and Chittagong's ever-busy urban society has a significant demand for smaller apartments. First, the real estate market in Bangladesh spiked in 2006 and lasted until 2009, and then again in 2015 and lasted till 2018. From 2024 to 2029, the market is anticipated to grow at an annual rate of 2.23%, reaching a total value of $3.07 trillion by 2029. The demand in the real estate sector will grow steadily as the economy is growing rapidly with fast urbanization. The rising housing Market in Bangladesh is expected to be there for decades to come because according to UN data, 60 per cent of global population will live in cities by 2025. Dhaka's population by 2030 is projected to rise to 27.3 million due to the rapidity of the pace of urbanization. Over the past two decades, Bangladesh has experienced impressive economic growth, with its GDP expanding at an average annual rate of 6-8%. This growth has led to higher incomes, prompting more individuals to invest in their homes and pursue improved living standards. As a result, a burgeoning middle class is emerging, with an increasing number of people aspiring to own property. This trend is driving demand in the real estate sector, contributing to its expansion.
