In Figures

Bangladesh's textile and garment machinery market is valued at over US $4 billion, according to industry reports, and has been growing at an annual rate of nearly 20% due to continuous modernization and capacity expansion. A major driver of this growth is the sector's transition toward man-made fibre (MMF)-based production, which is increasing demand for advanced machinery. Alongside this, the government and private sector are gradually adopting automation and smart manufacturing technologies, although the exact share of Industry 4.0 investments is not yet quantified. Beyond machinery, Bangladesh's overall textile manufacturing market is estimated at around US $39.5 billion in 2025, projected to reach US $52.3 billion by 2030.
